Category	Criteria	Score
Formatting/ Organization	Position Paper has the correct email and document title. The heading is correctly formatted and each section contains the relevant information. The paper is written in third person (eg. "Canada believes," not "I" or "we").	Excellent	Good	Fair	Approaching Expectations
Topic Knowledge	Delegates demonstrate a thorough and accurate understanding of the topic. Specifically, it is clear that delegates understand why the topic is a problem of global importance and what international actions have already been taken to try and solve it.	Excellent	Good	Fair	Approaching Expectations
Country Knowledge	Delegates demonstrate a thorough and accurate understanding of their country. Specifically they are able to explain how the topic affects their country and what, if any, actions their country has taken within its borders or at an international level.	Excellent	Good	Fair	Approaching Expectations
Solutions	Proposed solutions are within power of the UN (remember, the UN cannot violate any country's national sovereignty), and presented from the position of the country.	Excellent	Good	Fair	Approaching Expectations
